WHY STUDY EU LAW?

"EU law is a fascinating area of the law. For any student who wants to become a lawyer practicing in Europe, the knowledge of EU law has become as essential as the knowledge of domestic law. Moreover, as the EU is continuously expanding and deepening economic exchange and cross-border legal relationships with the rest of the world, also non-member States of the EU increasingly need lawyers with high expertise in EU law."

"The LL.M. in European Law at Université Panthéon-Assas has broadened my horizons in many different ways. First of all, I was able to deepen my expertise in the substantial EU law, but also to gain insights into new areas due to the broad curriculum. It has provided me with a valuable perspective on the EU's general approach and fundamental values. Not only have I enjoyed learning from excellent professors with great expertise in their various fields, but also from fellow students from all over the world. Interacting with inspiring people from different legal systems while forming friendships has made the experience even better than I ever imagined it could be."

"The LL.M. in European Law as taught at University Panthéon Assas has a unique approach to teaching European Union Law. It dives into the areas of EU law which have the most impact on the economy and the day-to-day life of European citizens, while still keeping the EU's broader structures and its history in sight. The courses are taught by scholars and practitioners from all over Europe, helping the students learn about the theoretical as well as the practical aspects of European Union law.
