

Bachelor of Laws, LL.B. (Hons)*

— MAURITIUS —

Assas International was set up by Paris-Panthéon-Assas University to run its international programmes at its campuses in Dubai, Mauritius, Paris and Singapore. The three-year LL.B. Honours Programme is designed to meet the requirements of students who intend to pursue postgraduate studies or a career, in either civil law or common law jurisdictions, or in Private/Public international law practice. After the first year, students may choose between Optional Streams focusing either on domestic law or modules with a more global outreach – ‘the global stream’ may be of interest to either local or international students.

The objectives of our LL.B. programme are: equip students with all necessary skills required to pursue postgraduate courses in law or other related fields; train students for a career in the public or private sector at national or international levels; enable students to follow Vocational Courses for law practitioners.

International Expertise

75% of the Faculty are professors from the Paris campus
25% are Mauritian law practitioners

Taught in English

All lectures and tutorials within the LL.B. programme are conducted in English

Adaptability

Optional streams will provide local and international students with an opportunity to adapt to the needs of different legal systems and/or career paths

Career Opportunities

The comprehensive programme enables graduates to follow vocational courses for prospective law practitioners or academic studies for other legal careers

Kareem RAMJAN

LL.B. Alumni 2025

"My three years at Assas have been transformative.

I began without much discipline, but through challenges and healthy competition, I grew into one of the strongest students in my class. The university not only pushed me academically but also offered leadership opportunities through the Assas Law Society, where I learned responsibility, teamwork and the importance of perseverance. Overall, the experience was incredible and it shaped me both personally and professionally."

Laetitia ALBERT

LL.B. Alumni 2023

"Enrolled in a demanding programme at Paris-Panthéon-Assas University, I was able to combine academic rigour with a passion for law. This journey was not solely theoretical, as I also had the opportunity to take part in mock trials, seminars, and group projects, which enriched my practical understanding of the law. After taking my first steps in the legal field at Paris-Panthéon-Assas University, I continued my path by enrolling in the Legal Professional Vocational Courses (LPVC). Today, equipped with this academic and professional experience, I am currently undertaking my pupillage to become a barrister, ready to take on the challenges of this demanding profession."

Melissa AMOUGUI

LL.B. Alumni 2024 & LL.M. Alumni 2025

"My experience at Paris-Panthéon-Assas University was both enriching and diverse. The programme's combination of Common Law and Civil Law, along with the opportunity to specialise in International Law, provided me with a global perspective on the legal field. This knowledge has proven invaluable in my LL.M. International Business Law, where I feel thoroughly prepared."
